Review: Collection of 33 newspaper articles covering the Industrial Exhibit held at Dairen, 5-19 September 1949, and reporting on the general economic recovery of the Dairen area since 1947. Industrial statistics are cited for the periods of Japanese occupation, Nationalist Control, and the Communist take-over to demonstrate the effectiveness of the CCP leadership in restoring the economy of the area. Special articles cover railway, shipping, and textile industries. One article describes the model glass factory of the Sino-Soviet operated Far Eastern Electric Company. Other items review the various drives to increase production and improve management, and describe some of the products exhibited in the 17 exhibit halls.
